EXTENSION OF RAPID TRANSIT.

Line to be Built Along Wall Avenue North to Twenty-second Street.

HEARINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

Part of Damage Award Refunded to Railroad Company to Obliviate New Trial.

Ogden, Utah, Nov. 10.—The Ogden Rapid Transit company will extend its line along Wall avenue from Twenty-fourth street to Twenty-second street, according to a map filed with the city engineer by the company yesterday afternoon. Accompanying the map is a petition signed by a majority of the business men who have their warehouses along Wall avenue, also by residents of that neighborhood, who are anxious for a car service. The car line has already been laid between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-fourth streets on Wall avenue where the street is paved, this was put down last year. The streetcar company will commence work at once on laying the track and placing the trolley poles, and expects to have the track completed by December 1. When this track is finished the car company will put a switch on Wall avenue near Twenty-fifth street, and will run two cars on the line from Washington avenue down Twenty-fifth street, and along Wall avenue to Twenty-second street, giving a five minute service, the same as is now in vogue on Twenty-fifth street from the depot. The new track will also accommodate many railroad men in going to and from their work.

DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Disgraces With Jury in Damage Cases—Part of Award Refunded.

Ogden, Nov. 10.—In the district court before Judge Howell the motion for a new trial in the case of Wm. Brown against the Southern Pacific Railroad company, et al., was called. The court having issued an order in the case that unless the plaintiff would refund $500 to the railroad company, of the $2500 verdict rendered by the jury who heard the case, that a new trial would be granted, as the court held that the verdict was excessive in accordance with the evidence, the plaintiff through his attorney A. G. Horn, appeared before the court and agreed to the refund. The new trial was denied. Motion for a new trial in the case of Fred Stauffer, Jr., vs. Ogden City et al., has been made by Judge Maginnis. The jury who heard the case brought in a verdict Monday evening, of no cause of action. The little boy is deaf in one ear, however, from the accident and has other injuries and Judge Maginnis holds that the evidence in the case did not justify such a verdict as was rendered.

pressive were the funeral services held yesterday afternoon at the grave of Benjamin R. Jensen, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jensen, who died Wednesday evening of diphtheria. About 200 friends, including the blacksmiths of the city, had gathered at the grave to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the boy, and to extend sympathy to the grief-stricken parents. After the remains had been laid to rest and the grave filled, the services were commenced by the Grant school orchestra, of which deceased was a member, playing "Nearer My God, to Thee." Elders Evert Nelsonson, Herman B. Deukers and Carl Peterson, spoke briefly on the sorrowful trial that had come to the family in the loss of such a noble, God-fearing obedient son, but comforted them in a fond assurance that he would receive an eternal exaltation in God's kingdom because of his purity. Miss Sorenson sang, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives." The grave was dedicated by Elder G. P. S. Ables. Elder Henry Anderson presided at the services.

DOUBLE BEREAVEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd S. Chandler Lose Two Children by Diphtheria.

Ogden, Nov. 10.—Twice during this week have the ravages of that dreaded disease diphtheria visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd S. Chandler in Wilkeson, La., each time taking from them one of their dear children. Monday a two-year-old boy was called to the great beyond with four years old, and yesterday a second boy, four years old, died from the same cause, leaving one more child suffering from the affliction. The parents are heartbroken over their sad bereavement, and have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sorrowing hours. Death visiting the home through such a disease makes it very much harder for the parents, as no one is permitted to enter the home to comfort them in their sorrow. The little boys were laid side by side in the family burial plot.

CHANGES IN SCHOOL BOARD.

Probable Resignation of Dr. Conroy and H. H. Thomas.

Ogden, Nov. 10.—It is expected there will be two more changes in the board of education, perhaps by the first of next year, if not earlier, as it is understood that Dr. E. M. Conroy, the recently elected mayor, will tender his

REPUBLICAN LEADERS DISCUSS TARIFF REVISION

Boston, Nov. 9.—At the dinner of the Economic club here tonight Gov. A. U. Cummings of Iowa and Henry M. Whitney, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts in the recent election, made addresses in favor of revision of the tariff. The president of the club was upheld by Congressman James T. McCleary of Minnesota.

The revision side opened the debate, Mr. Whitney speaking in behalf of reciprocity and tariff reform. On tariff reform he quoted statistics in which he endeavored to show that of the 9,974,117 resignation as a member from the First ward, and H. H. Thomas, recently appointed superintendent of the State Industrial school, will resign as fifth ward member, thus leaving only two of the original members of the board. H. M. Dr. Joyce and H. W. Williams, Judge Dee having died, leaving a vacancy recently filled by Asael Parr from the Third Ward. Who the successors to Dr. Conroy and Mr. Thomas will be is yet very uncertain, as no names have been mentioned in particular for the responsible positions.

MEWAN BENEFIT NETTED $150. The benefit concert given 10 days ago at the Fifth ward hall by Prof. Squire Coop and Prof. Charles Kent for the benefit of the children of the late Robert C. Mewan was a greater financial success than was at first expected, netting $150 after paying the expenses attached to the concert. A check for that amount was yesterday forwarded by Bishop Watson to Salt Lake City to be paid to the children. To those who took part in the concert both from Salt Lake City and Ogden is due special credit, also to W. W. Browning, who printed the program and acted for the benefit, without any charge. Mr. Mewan having been in his employ for a number of years in his printing establishment.

THREE COUPLES WED.

The county clerk granted marriage licenses to the following couples yesterday: Wm. Arthur Stanger, 29, and Miss Clara C. Moyer, 15, of Marietta and Plain City respectively. David Price, 25, and Miss Grace Wadell, 15, both of Ogden. The last two couples were married at the county clerk's office by Elder George Ritchie.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

John Mathews, a popular traveling man from Lincoln, Neb., spent the past two days in Ogden and went to Salt Lake last evening. He is accompanied on this trip by a very charming young lady to whom he was wedded the 11th of October. Jack's friends in Utah wish him every happiness.

Tonight the High school Alumni association gives its opening ball of the season at Toller's dancing academy.

Rev. Blood officiated yesterday afternoon at the funeral services over the remains of A. C. Jensen, who was buried at the Mountain View cemetery. The G. A. R. and W. R. C. attended the services.

Supr. H. V. Hilliker of the Ogden Stock Line is in business. The elegant lace given to the Oregon most popular lady at the fourth ward bazaar is on exhibition at Mathews' candy store. Prof. Charles Kent and Walter Paulson of Salt Lake were Ogden visitors yesterday.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For colds, coughs, and croup. It is a great remedy. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept."

Wage Earners in the Country

the condition of three-quarters of them would be improved by being able to supply their needs in the cheapest market.

Mr. Whitney, opened his remarks by declaring that he was in exact accord with the Republican national platform and President Roosevelt in the tariff question, believing that there should be no revision until the public interests demanded it, or were promoted thereby. "And nothing has happened since the platform was adopted and President Roosevelt announced his stand in his letter of acceptance to warrant us in believing that the time for tariff revision has now been reached," said Mr. McCleary.

Gov. Cummings took up the iron and steel schedule and after reviewing the situation and quoting many statistics, said:

"If the manufacturer of the United States can sell his products in the markets of other countries, he is enabled to make a fair profit upon his sales. The man who still holds that our manufacturers need any considerable protection surrenders his good sense in his holding at the claims of that miserable maxim flouted from the language of the great American game. 'Protection, high or low, with home competition, will make a market fair to both seller and buyer, and high protection without home competition among sellers will make a market in which the sellers are the masters and buyers the slaves.'"

New Ballot Law for Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—The committee of 29 who have been appointed by the city party, announced today that a non-party committee would be appointed in a few days for the purpose of drafting an entire new ballot law, to be placed before the next legislature. Other representative bodies of the state will be invited to join the movement.

LECTURE BY DAVID STARR.

President of Leland Stanford Jr. University Lectures Before the B. Y. U. Polysophical Society.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Nov. 10.—The first of the course of lectures to be delivered this season, under the auspices of the Brigham Young University Polysophical society was given last evening in College hall before a large audience by President David Starr Jordan of the Leland Stanford Jr. university.

Prof. J. C. Svenson, in introducing President Jordan, referred to the new theory of education which was not merely the attaining of culture and scholarship, but the application of culture and scholarship to the practical affairs of life—relating learning to life—and paid a high tribute to President Jordan and to the Leland Stanford Jr. university for his and its example and influence in this direction.

President Jordan, in his interesting address, without the least hint of affectation or assumption of superiority in his manner or in his delivery, related to the students of this university the third time he had come to Provo as a missionary. The first time was 25 years ago, when he was sent by the government to find out what kind of life were in the Utah lake and what the government could do for the fish industry here. At that time he met Peter Madsen, of whom he spoke as one of the men who had been most helpful to him in his study of the fish question.

In 1888 he had again been sent back by the government to find out what he had failed to find the first time, and this time he came as the advance agent of the "fish lake" of the twentieth century. When he was here 25 years ago he met a young man, while walking along Center street, who told him that the Utah boys were rough, that they had no opportunity for education, and that the girls did not like them. If that was not so now, the boys had as good opportunities in Utah as they had anywhere else, and it was their own fault if they did not improve them, and he stated further that among the best boys that came to the Leland Stanford Jr. university were the boys from Utah.

The twentieth century, which had come suddenly upon us with its ruin and bustle would be strenuous, complex and democratic. Strenuous, because so much had to be done—waste land to be cultivated, minerals to be dug out, and the power streams to be harnessed, and their energy given to the world, etc. Complex, because the world had become so small and men were brought so close together by reason of facilities of travel and communication, that men had to think of so many more things and solve so many more questions than in the old days. Democratic, because the question would be to get men who could do the things that were required to be done, and there was no time to stop to ask whether a man had a distinct ancestry or where he was educated. The thing was what could he do. President Jordan disagreed with the claim that there are not now so great opportunities for young men as formerly. The value and necessity for these qualities were plainly and earnestly explained.

In closing he admonished the young men to live in such a manner that the man to whom you should be able to come in time in all his strength and joy."

STATE MENTAL HOSPITAL.

The state board of insanity met here yesterday in regular monthly session.

The following appropriations were made for October: Maintenance, $4,031.53; Improvements and repairs, 756.45; New buildings, 1,139.54. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $14,029.20.

Medical Superintendent Calder reported an estimate of supplies needed for six months amounting to $23,732, and was authorized to advertise for bids for the same.

The contractor on cottage No. 4 reported that the needed repairs to the building in good condition had been made. It will be examined, and if satisfactory accepted by the board. The following table presented by Medical Superintendent Calder shows the movement of patients for October:

BEFORE AND AFTER

THOS. J. BROOKS

USING
Rexall
"93"
Hair Tonic

THOS. J. BROOKS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 24, 1905.

Gentlemen:

Allow me to say a word endorsing the remarkable merits of your Rexall "93" Hair Tonic.

My attention was called to this remedy by one of your clerks, who guaranteed beyond question it would stop my hair falling out, and also put my scalp in healthy condition for new hair.

I used it, which shows me to be nearly bald. After using two bottles I saw decided improvement, so continued its use. I have used seven 50-cent bottles, and have a heavier suit of hair than I ever had in my life.

I also enclose photograph taken a few weeks ago, showing the wonderful results in a short time.

I take great pleasure in making this statement to you, gentlemen, endorsing your great Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and will answer promptly all inquiries regarding it.

I am at present special agent of the Western and Southern Insurance Company, 21-22 Courier-Journal Office Building, this city.

Very respectfully,

Thos. J. Brooks

This is a remarkable case—an exception to the rule. We do not promise that "93" will grow hair on every bald head—but we do guarantee, because we know, that it will stop falling hair, cure dandruff, and give satisfaction to anyone needing a hair dressing. If it doesn't, bring back the bottle, and we'll refund the 50 cents you pay for it.

Do not take chances on it wearing away or experiment with some unknown preparation which may leave the bronchial tubes and lungs weakened and susceptible to attack from the germs of Pneumonia or Consumption.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Contains no opiates.

A Mother Testifies

This is to certify that my daughter was down for almost one year with a cold. The doctors finally pronounced it consumption. We had given up hope for her recovery. I was given a sample bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. I gave it all to her in about three hours. It stopped the cough, and gave her rest. I sent next day and bought a 50c. bottle and began giving it. In three months' time she was well. There can not be too much said in favor of Foley's Honey and Tar. It saved my child's life.
